The Kountz family were present, also quite a number of their Massillon relatives.

Master Linden Howald delightfully entertained about twenty members of Miss Bayliss's dancing class of which he is a member, at his home in Akron street Saturday evening. The little people enjoyed themselves with dancing to the music of Mr. Howald's violin, and the games of tiddlewinks, post ffice etc., They enjoyed immensely, an excellent supper served by Mrs. Howald.

As the first step in the complete reorganization of the Independent Company on a basis better adapted to its various business interests, the retail department was completely separated to-day from the publishing branch, John V. R. Skinner's interest being purchased by Arthur E. Spalding, who for many years has been identified with the company. Other important changes will be announced shortly.

In one of the Independent Company's windows may be seen to-day a photograph sent to Mr. J. L. Green, from Ft. Meade, South Dakata. In the foreground stands the familiar figure of Chaplain E. J. Vattmann, formerly of Canal Fulton, and ranged about him are thirty full blooded Indians in typical dress. The picture is very interesting, and those who wish to examine it closely not hesitate about asking to do so.

Mrs. J. Walter McClymonds enters tained eighteen guests, at tea, Saturday evening, Mrs, Michael D. Harter, of Mansfield, being among the number present. At each plate lay a bunch of roses, or carnations, and a mass of the former filled a large bowl in the center of the table, which was otherwise exceptionally handsome, with a wealth of rare china and cut glass. Cards followed the tea, a new game, "desperation," thehappy sug-gestion of Mrs. Harter, being played.

FLOWERS AND MUSIC AND SUNSHINE EVERYWHERE.

Successful Services in all the Churches-Large Congegations and Large Collections the Rule-Details of the Day's Doings.

Plain old St. Timothy's was glorious yesterday, with the sunshine that streamed in from without, and the flowers that bloomed within. Font, chancel, communion table and choir gallery were fragrant and gorgeous with Easter lillies, roses, carnations, narcissus, and ivy, not a few of the flowers coming as a memorials, from friends of the parish. Gleaming white took the place of the somber Lenten altar cloths, and the white stoll of the rector typified the day. A. banner, with a cross in a field of flaming red, completed the ecclesiastica deora-tions in the church which makes much of resurrection day.

The crowded anditorium, too, was fair to look upon. The Knights Templar, with their black coats and gayer traps pings, occupied the front pews, and who shall cast the first stone, if the mind occasionally dwelt apon the brave array of spring flowers and new bonnets?

The music was indeed superb. Mrs. Frank M. Brown occupied the organ bench, and the choir, consisting of Mrs. C. F. Porter, Mrs. C. M. Russell, Miss Fanne Upham, Mr. C. A. Gates and Mr. J. K. Peacock, made the rendition of the programme memorable. Among the musical pertions of the service, the offertory—a duet by Mr. Gates and Mrs. Porter, and the hymn, 'Christ the Lord is Risen," by Dudley Buck, were especially notable.

The Rev. Edward L. Kemp delivered an effective sermon from the text "He is Risen." The result of the collection, announced in advance as for the benefit of the new church building fund was decidedly gratifying, being the largest in the church's history. The comtortable sum of $951.26 was placed upon the plates in the morning, of which $600 was represented by a gift of two lots from Judge Ricks, the remainder being in cash and checks.

In the afternoon a children's service was held, Dr. N. P. Bailey a dressing the congregation, and in the evening, the rector, who preached in St. Paul's, Canton, in the afternoon, conducted service in Grace chapel. A congregation of 400 worshipped at St. Paul's in the morning, and 300 in the evening. The singing was by the congregation. At St. John's Evangelical a class of thirty-five took their first communion. The church was thronged and the service was unusually interesting.

At the U. B. Church, the Easter service was by the children, in the evening. There were recitations and songs, all well rendered. At the Second Presbyterian church, the morning service had a character suited to the day, and in the evening an elaborate musical programme was carried out. A high class of music was rendered and the congregations were large. The pretty new Christian church was prettier than ever vesterday. The pastor, Mr. Smith, preached a thoughtful morning sermon, and in the evening special praise service was held. Prof. L. G. Graves directed the choir. The floral decorations at the First M. E. church were very beautiful. The music was good, Miss Mary Lynch's solo as announced Saturday, being especially enjoyed. The several services at St. Mary's and St. Joseph's Catholic churches were all well attended. As usual at St. Mary's the spacious interior was crowded at high mass. The seating capacity of this immense church is 1.300, but was not sufficient by several hundred to accommo date all present. The choir of sixteen voices, led by Joseph Ess, with Gustavus Paul at the organ, did most effective

Mayor's Court.

Judge A. H. Brown, of New Philadelphia, who served several terms as probate judge of Tuscarawas county, has been in this city for about a week and has spent the time principally in toying with the cup which inebriates. Sunday afternoon an officer found him in an alley off of Muskingum street in a helpless condition and locked him up. He was discharged this morning, being unable to pay fine or costs.

The veteran litigant, Kessler-he of Railroad street, came up to the mayor's office to-day with a grievance. Kessler occupies what was formerly the Huff. man property and rents his own to one Antoni Claus. It is alleged that Kessler threw his straw and other debris into Calus's back yard, and the blood of the Gaul boiled rithin him. He caught Kessler in the adjacent alley, and Kessler is bound to admit that Antoni ad ministered a tremendous thrashing. Kessler straightway sought the mayor and charged Claus with assault, The latter gave bond for his appearance Wednesday atternoon.

The Republican club will meet this evening in its hall, and every Republican will find a welcome between the four walls.

The Republican ticket this spring is a very good ticket. The men whom it names would impart vitality to city government. Vitality is a very good thing to have around.

A Chicago paper says that a man named MacQueary is bringing an obscure Ohio town into nature. is supposed, with a shadow of reason, that an ex-Akronian wrote this

The third house has had less than its usual trouble in preventing the passage of bills supposed to be immical to railroad interests. A camel could pass through the eye of a needle easier than a two cent mileage bill through the Ohio legislature.

Mr. MacQueary says that he will preach again in an Episcopal church, at the end of the term of his suspension; that he will show his bishop a thing or two-and so forth and so on. Brother MacQueary has not the right spirit. He is too belligerent. His preaching in the church house of another denomination immediately after his deposition did not indicate possession of a nice sort of judgment in a nan who desires still to be associated with "the historic church," and is opposed to "ecclesiastical an-

There are always some who miss now and then a chapter in local life, and for them this information is intended: The voters of this city next Monday will decide the fate of three important propositions. Each ticket | dance. cast will read, at the bottom: "Issue of bonds for public buildings, yesno," "Issue of bonds for paving and improving streets, yes-no," and "Authority to issue bonds-yes, authority to issue bonds-no." The voter will run his pencil across the the word yes, or no, as his judgment shall dictate. These three propositions already have the sanction of the legislature and require sanction from the people, in the shape of an affirmative vote.

The first named proposition is designed to give effect to a new city hall movement, and will authorize the sale of bonds to the amount of $35,000; the adoption of the second is essential if the streets are to be paved this year; the third is intended to enable the board of trade, with the co-operation of the conneil, to admit industrial enterprises now seeking to establish themselves in this place upon mutually advantage eous terms.

AT THE COUNTY SEAT.

Snatches of News from City and the Court House.

Canton, March 30 .- The chapel of Trinity Lutheran church was dedicated yesterday with pleasing services. Easter day was celebrated in the various churches, exceptionally fine musical programmes being rendered in St. John's Catholic and the First M. E. churches.

It is said that there was considerable opposition to the endorsement of Mayor Blake's candidacy manifested in the recent meeting of the Y. M. D. C. of this city, and that J. J. Whitacre attacked Blake as a man who had traded other Democratic candidates to serve his own ends, and that when asked to contribute to the support of the club, had consigned it to the region of fire and brimstone. After several acrimonious talks, the endorsement was given, but there's no little uneasiness felt over the situation.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Fast Mail."

The Chicago Inter-Ocean is credited with having said: "'The Fast Mail' was not pitchforked together by an inexpert person. It is, indeed, a very ingeniously contrived affair, full of excitements and surprises, about every known device in the compass of melodrama having been dressed into service. The occupants of the Olympian region have not a dull moment in which to criticise the flow of language, or the idiosyncracies of character. It is biff, bang, from start to finish. But this wild extravagance of sensation is balanced in such a way that the honest spectator cannot deny the cunning of the dramatist nor dispute that he has succeeded in his purpose of writing a play 'to set 'em going.'"

At Buchers, Wednesday Night.

J. C Stewart's comedy company will present that ludicious comedy, "The two Johns," Wednesday evening. The entanglements of the cousins, Peter and Philip (The Two Johns) arising from the similarity in appearance of each to the other, and bewillderment of their associates, caused by the complications crowded upon them, are said to afford enough fun to dispel the blues on an army of defeated politicians. The company engaged for the present season Flett. comprises some clever comedians, also a bevy of pretty girls who sing and

Note and Comment on Men and Deings at Russell Co.'s.

No change is reported in John Walters's condition. Chas. Hanes has returned to work again. Michael Bollinger has been at home some time with the grippe. Thomas Kelly is reported to be no better. Fred Lucker's condition remains about the same as when last re-ported. David Umenhour continues convalescent. Levi Weaver is on duty again, as contrary as ever. Bernard Port ner was compelled to quit work again Ernest Bammerlin has again been laid up with rneumatism. C. D. Millard has bee confined to the house for some time.

E. S. Mills, who returned to his post some time ago, has been off duty some time suffering from a relapse. Phflug bas been away from his post in the farm engine department for about two weeks with fever. There are a number of employes off work two or three days at a time, afflicted with the grippe. They are so numerous that no note is made of it.

It is learned that our old friend, John Merriman, will accompany the train of machinery to Oregon. It was a lucky stroke of business when his services were secured. Everybody feels sure that the train will go safely through the scene of the late Indian troubles with John as pilot, for a band of the longest named Indians alive would be glad to escape after a half hour's palaver with the veteran linguist.

Many people of Massillon of both sexes took advantage of the beautiful weather yesterday to walk down to the works to see the portion of the train already loaded, which leaves for Oregon next month. The cars, which are closely and neatly packed with clean and bright machinery, stand on one of the yard sidetracks and have now been increased

In the underground mail: There are various conjectures as to the cause of the strange conduct of Mortimer Young, and those of us in the boiler department who are familiar with his case wish to give assurance that he is perfectly harmless, and only a litte cracky on tiddledywinks. All day long, to the stroke of his hammer he murmers softly to himself, tiddledywink, tiddledywink, tiddledy yum tum dink. And when interrupted he looks up with the stare of the man who walked the floor and persisted in repeating "once one is two." mechanically answers "tiddledy wink" and resumes his steady hum and motion. Then when his work is done, with a gladsome light in his eye, he makes his way homeward with the speed of the wind, and, supper over, with hat and coat under his arm he hastens away, and to any inquiry as to where he is going he only answers, "tiddledywink." He and his neighbor, John Ritter, chipped in a few weeks ago and bought a five cent sack of peanuts at Ed. Hering's grocery, and one night at John's and the next at Mort's they have been playing for that sack ever since. It sometimes changes hands a dozen times of an evening, and trouble is expected some evening soon, as one or the other has been invading the contents of the sack until they will soon have to buy more peanuts or play for the sack.

It is teared if it is discovered which have been eating the peanuts they may come to blows, for they are in dead earnest, and determined to make their mark as the longest winded tiddledywink players on record, and to see them fasten their jaws to the table as the game becomes exciting argues that they will succeed, if they have to hang to it until

THE PRESIDENT'S FAMILY SOON TO BE SCATTERED.

Mrs. Russel Harrison Will Sail for En-Typos Almost a Certainty-Employers Will Fight Hard-Mr. Blalne a

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The president's family will soon be scattered far and widely. On his tour to the Pacific coast the president will not be accompanied by any ladies, taking only his private secretary and one or two of his cabinet officers with him. Mrs. Harrison will remain in Washington until time to go to her Cape May cottage, and children with her. Mrs. McKee and adopted child, and about a week before Mrs. Russell Harrison will probaly sail for England in a few weeks, will be presented at court, pass a few weeks in Lonsister. It appeared that his mother and sented at court, pass a few weeks in London, the same time in Paris and Berlin, and return to end the summer quietly at Cape May and go to some New England resort for the early autumn. Every one is interested in the little European trip, and anxious to learn the verdict of London society upon the president's daughter and daughter-in-law. Many predict that the beauty of Mrs. Russel Harrison will capture the London world, and that she will be the success of this season at that world's capital.

READY FOR THE NOOSE.

THE NICELYS WILL LIKELY BE HANGED NEXT THURSDAY.

The Evidence of Insanity Not Sufficient to Convince Governor Pattison-Dr. Orth, Who Examined Joe, Decided He was Shamming-The Sheriff Completing Arrangements for the Event.

HARRISBURG, PA., March 30.—Governor Pattison has not taken any action on the application for the respite of Joseph Nicely, and will not likely interfere with the murderer's death warrant. The evidence of the latter's alleged insanity is not sufficiently conclusive to justify the governor in staying the execution, and as to the guilt of the Nicely brothers, nothing has been produced to convince him that they were wrongfully convicted. Governor Beaver spent several months investigating the case before eral months investigating the case before his successor was inaugurated, and he is said to have been of the opinion, as the result of his inquiry, that the Nicelys were guilty of the crime for which they are to be hanged next Thursday. Working the Insanity Dodge.

Joe continues to play the insanity dodge, though he sleeps well and eats a hearty breakfast. The town is crowded with country people, eagerly reading of the latest phases of this most celebrated case. Another report is that expert Dr. Orth, who examined Joe, decided that he was shamming. Others, however, have it that the reason for the report that the death watch had been ordered discontinued was that he has reported the man really insane. Meanwhile Sheriff Good appears unmoved by the rumors, and seems to think the men will be hanged on time and is completing his preparations for that event.

DETECTIVE GILKINSON'S MURDERER Believed to Have Robbed and Killed a Pennsylvania Farmer.

PITTSBURG, March 30.—Something of a sensation was created here by the when further serious trouble will be uncharge that the desperado who murdered Detective Gilkinson was the real murderer of Farmer Umberger, for which crime David and Joseph Nicely are to be executed at Somerset, Pa., next Thursday. John Myers, a reputable citizen of Homestead, says Fitzsimmons was recognized as one of the two peddlers who were seen in the neighborhood of the Umberger homestead the night of victed on purely circumstantial evidence, and have steadily protested their innocence of the crime.

INDIGNATION AROUSED

Over the Advertised Sale of Mary Washington's Tomb.

FREDERICKSBURG, VA., March 30. George W. Shephard, who owns the ground on which the tomb of Mary Washington, mother of George Washington, is situated, gave to Colbert & Keitly, real estate brokers, an option in the property. The brokers at once advertised the tomb for sale at public auc tion in Washington. This aroused indignation, and Mr. Shephard notified the brokers that he could not give a clear title to the ground: Thereupon they withdrew the advertisement and instituted suit for $20,000 damages. The decision was in favor of Shephard.

A PENNSYLVANIA BOY

May Get the Highest Class Honor at the Annapolis Academy.

Annapolis, Md., March 30.—Out of a class of fifty-two Naval academy cadets about forty-seven, it is expected, will be graduated in June. The honor of graduating at the head of the class is said to be between Cadets Frank B. Zahn, of Pennsylvania; Henry G. Smith, of Ohio, and Horatio G. Gilmore, of Wisconsin, all of whom were "star" members of the class last term, with Cadets Witt, of Pennsylvania, and Blamer of Love. Blamer, of Iowa. The averages of the present term will not be made up until June, just before the commencement

NATURE'S WONDER.

Hickory Nuts Found Imbedded in the Heart of an Oak Tree.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., March 30 .-John Dotson, a reputable farmer of Doddridge county, reports having found a large number of hickorynuts in a perfect state of preservation imbedded in the heart of an oak tree nearly three feet in diameter, which he felled this week. Lumbermen state that the tree is about 200 years growth and perfectly solid, except for a knot where the nuts were found. Mr. Dotson removed the nuts and has them in his possession at Cen-

KEOKUK, IA., March 30.-William Woodley, a prominent citizen of this city, committed suicide last night while suffering from the grip.

From New York, Boston and Philadelphia the grip news is more reassuring, but many citizens of those places are suffering with the malady.

London, March 30.—Speaker Reed is in Paris, looking remarkably well and doing his best to enjoy himself. The restraining pitcher Mark Baldwin and effort up to the present is said to be very successful.

Father and Son Have a Terrible Fight With the Infuriated Brute.

HAMILTON, O., March 30 .- Tom Burk, Jr., of Somerville, a village near here, is the proprietor of a 4-year-old high-bred stallion (Hambletonian), the stock of which is very wild and savage. It was unsafe to approach him without a club, that being the only thing which could intimidate the animal. Last evening Tom entered the stable, forgetting his club, when the stallion became vicious and attacked him. He was tracked described to the country of the victous and attacked him. He was knocked down and the fiery animal began trampling on him, bruising him terribly. His father, Tom Burk, Sr., rushed to his rescue with a stick and broke it on the stallion's back. The beast then turned on the old man and soon had him under his feet, when he commenced stamping him to death. Tom, Jr., rushed up into the hay mow, descended with a pitchfork and thrust it the house, where he now lies dying of innumerable wounds. His face was chewed up in an awful manner, most all of his ribs were broken and there are many internal injuries. His son will live

TEMPERANCE WARFARE.

A Mob of Men and Women Make Another

Assault on Saloon Keeper Miller. TIFFIN, O., March 30.—Temperance warfare at Bloomville continue with additional riotous demonstrations. After the demolition of his saloon on Thursday night, William Miller procured a new stock of liquors and established himself in other quarters. Saturday night his place was visited by a crowd of thirteen men and eleven women who as saulted the proprietor and his barkeeper injuring the latter severely, and giving both of them half an hour to leave town on penalty of more severe treatment. Among the leaders of the mob was the local Methodist minister. Miller escaped to Columbus, but announces his determination to return to Bloomville,

She may die. The loss will amount to from $20,000 to $25,000. It will be at least two days before the repairs can be made. In the meantime the city will be out of water. The cause of the accident is ascribed to a large cake of ice in the pipe with pressure.

MURDER AT STEUBENVILLE.

Horatio G. Caldwell Shoots and Instantly Kills Amos Weems.

STEUBENVILLE, O., March 30.—This city was treated to a sensational murder, in which Horatio G. Caldwell shot and killed Amos Weems, alias "Turkey." Both are well-known young men. Mrs. Caldwell claims Weems tried to assault her while drunk. This incensed Caldwell, who went gunning for Weems. After saying "Hello," Caldwell whipped out a revolver and shot four shots at Weems. Two took effect in Weems' chest and one in his side. Another ball glanced off Weems' face. Weems died instantly.

Preparing for Another Landslide.

KANSAS CITY, March 30 .- Another landslide is threatened at the Bluffs, Eighteenth and Terrace streets. On account of recent rains the earth has cracked along Terrace street for a distance of several hundred feet and an entire block of houses, which stood thereon and which now hang trembling over the railroad yards, 100 feet below, have been deserted. Tons of earth and rock fell Tons of earth and rock fell last night and the crevasse continues to widen. The big slide is expected inside of a few hours.

An Alleged Monk Denounced as a Fraud. INDIANAPOLIS, IND., March 30.—Investigation shows that Henry C. Berg, the alleged Franciscan monk who was baptized into the Christian church Friday night, is a fraud from Louisville, Ky., who has been doing a thriving business as an "apostate," being quite impartial as between denominations in bestowing his faith. He has probably been baptized in more different styles than any man in America.

Didn't Care to Live.

NEW CASTLE, March 30.—Columbus Bruce, a well-to-do farmer, 45 years old, who lived near Edenburg, committed suicide last evening by shooting himself in the right temple with a 38-caliber revolver. A note was found in his bed chamber stating that he had been sick with the grip, became despondent and didn't care to live, and that he contemplated suicide.

HUSTILE PACITUNS

COME TOGETHER WITH BLACK-THORNS AND CLUBS AT SLIGO.

Police Interposed With Fixed Bayonets - Parnell Denounced from the Altar - Davitt Led His Followers Amid a Fusillade of Stones-A Prediction of Parnell's Defeat.

Lendon, March 30.—Parnell will be beaten at North Sligo next Thursday, and very decisively, too. There is no doubt about that, according to the reports of the special reporters there and those who know this wild region best.

At 8 o'clock yesterday morning the streets were alive with music. The bishop and priests denounced Parnell | tics. from the altar. Parnell took an excursion to Strandhill, where he began a personal canvass, but meeting with a hostile reception he returned to Sligo. Maurice Healy, Sexton, Davitt and Collery started at 9 in the morning for Tireagh, addressing small gatherings until they reached Templeboy. There the people formed into two hostile groups. The Parnellites, armed with blackthorns, moved against the Healyites with the intention of attacking them, but the police interposed with fixed bayonets and the storm subsided. At Dromore, west, the Parnellites stoned their opponents, and the police made a charge with clubs on the Parnellites. Then Davitt led his followers off the ground amid a fusillade of stones. Several anti-Parnellites were injured, and Pinkerton, M. P., had his head cut. At Easky the anti-Parnellite speakers found the Parnellites barring the road and by advice of the police retreated to Sligo. In the evening a meeting of anti-Par-nellites was held at Sligo, when the speakers charged that the mob had acted under instructions from the Parnell leaders. A telegram from Baltna states that Dr. Tanner was seriously assaulted by a Parnellite mob.

PRINCE BISMARCK'S BIRTHDAY.

He Will be 67 Next Wednesday-Awaited With Great Interest in Germany.

London, March 30.—Prince Bismarck's sixty-seventh birthday on Wednesday next is looked forward to with intense interest throughout Germany. The celebration will not be as pompous as that of the kaiser's two months ago, but appearances indicate that it will be more genuine and cordial. Berlin is preparing to do honor to the ex-chancellor with a formal address, and a general exhibi-tion of rejoicing and the leading municipalities of the empire have taken steps to make the occasion memorable. In Hamburg the day will generally be observed as a holiday, and in Berlin many of the leading business men have given word of their intention to do the same. All the world is asking what the kaiser will Bismarck was not among those who called to congratulate the kaiser on his birthday, but he observed the day like a loyal subject at his home in Fredrichs-rhue. Should the kaiser fail to send congratulations on Wednesday next a most painful impression will, it is thought, be produced, not in Germany alone, but throughout Europe.

The ex-chancellor is represented as in glorious health, with mind and body unimpaired. If, as alleged by his enemies at the time of his dismissal, he had any evil habits, such as the abuse of morphine, there is no evidence of it in act or appearance. Senator Hertz, of Hamburg, who was honored recently with an invitation to Friedrichsruhe, has stated that Bismarck appeared to be in his mental prime, and that he shows no decline either in physical or mental vigor. Should he go into the reichstag he would command a following that the imperial government cannot afford to defy, and may find it vain to resist. A Vienna dispatch says that the prospect of Bis-marck's presence in the reichstag excites considerable anxiety there, on account of the effect it may have on the Triple alliance, Bismarck having openly ex-pressed himself as opposed to pledging Germany to Austrian projects in the

SOCIALISM AMONG TROOPS.

Evidence of Its Doctrines Spreading in the Ranks Throughout Europe.

LONDON, March 30 .- The military authorities have come into possession, through a recent arrest, of evidence going to show that the social democracy has been spreading its doctrines through the ranks both of army and navy and has made numerous proselytes and that the proposition of socialism among the troops is not confined to Germany, but is systematically carried on throughout Europe, with the exception of Russia, and that all the armies of western Eu-rope are honey-combed with the subvers-ive ideas of the pledged enemies of es-tablished institutions. The kaiser, it is stated, has given directions that the evil should be dealt with most radically so far as Germany is concerned, and any officer or soldier detected in propagating the prohibited opinions shall be punished with the utmost severity. The informa-tion ascertained has also been sent to Austria, Belgium and Italy for the war offices in those countries to be on their

BONNETS OF THE SPRING

OLIVE HARPER DESCRIBES SOME EASTER BEAUTIES.

The Plateau, Which Is One of the Latest Styles, Is the Most Extraordinary Contrivance in Head Gear of Modern Times. Three Pretty Gowns for Young Girls.

[Special Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, March 26.-A scrap of satin, an inch or so of ribbon, a tiny fluff of feather, a few delicate spring flowers, a bow of velvet, and a pair of strings an inch wide and half a yard long, and you have the materials for half a dozen spring bonnets. For all the spring bonnets are tiny-the smaller the betterand no two are alike in shape, material or ornamentation. There are lace bonnets so light that they can rest upon a bang without crushing the most delicate curl. and there are bonnets so heavy with jet, steel and jeweled beading that they are warranted to give one a headache inside of half an hour. But they are so pretty, so rich and so becoming that the women quite enjoy being made martyrs of in such a good cause.

EASTER BEAUTIES.

The plateau bonnet is perhaps the most ridiculous shape that was ever invented, for it has not even the negative qualities of suitable size nor grace of outline, nor does it make any pretense of affording lodgment for pretty flowers, ribbons or feathers. It is just a flat, pancakey looking thing, with perhaps a little border of beads or velvet, a narrow ruching under the front brim and a bit of a bow at the back. It makes a woman look as if her head had been sawed off flat. Flowers are out of place on these, and a woman must be a "dazzling beauty" to carry off one of the ugly things. The bonnet at the top of this illustration is of turquois blue velvet, with brown gray velvet, with a bow of the same in the front giving support to a soft gray plume. On the right is a toque of mazarine blue velvet with pale blue tips. In the middle, below, is a toque shape turned backward of gray ribbed velvet, with tufts of tips on the extreme front and back. At the left of this is a round turban of light brown serge, trimmed with a silk pompon in front and a tuft of ostrich plumes in the back in shaded browns. On the right is a large Milan straw of bronze brown, edged with fancy braid, and covered with ribbon and flowers-nasturtiums, in straggling vine patterns. These flowers are so natural that-well, if I were a bee I should certainly expect to find honey in them.

Black lace bonnets and hats will be very popular for church, street and theater probably all the season, and they are certainly exceedingly pretty and dainty, and though when bought at the high class milliners' are very expensive, they can be easily made at a very low cost. The foundations of wire can be bought for ten or fifteen cents, and this is expected to show through. One yard of black net, dotted or plain, is sufficient for a bonnet, and the best costs not over fifty cents per yard. The lace can be shirred or only fulled on as preferred, and a little ruching of the same is made

THREE PRETTY YOUNG GIRLS' GOWNS. to go around the edge, and the bits that are left can be mussed up together and set on the back as a foundation and background for a bunch of spring flowers. Violets, small pansies, apple and cherry blossoms, nasturtiums and primroses, as well as wreaths of forget-menots and tiny pale pink roses, are all seen, and mignonette and several other small and delicate flowers whose names I don't know. Two velvet strings, half a yard long and an inch wide, are fastened at the back. Yellow, pink, pale blue and mignonette are all effective colors with black, besides violet.

Gowns for young misses of fourteen to sixteen ought to have a word of praise this spring, for they are just what they ought to be. In the illustration are three lovely gowns, maidenly and modest. That on the right is of brown serge, with mordore velvet buttons and bands. The middle is gray silk warp Henrietta, with gray velvet trimming and a figured china silk vest, and the third is of madder red camel's hair, trimmed with dark red velvet. All are pretty and easy of reproduction. OLIVE HARPER.
